

2007 Lloyd Reserve Shiraz

Background

Lloyd Reserve Shiraz is produced from a single vineyard at Coriole that was planted in 1919. The soil and roots are extremely deep and generally no irrigation is required. It is one of Langton's classified wines of Australia.

The 2007 vintage in McLaren Vale was very distinctive with a more traditional red wine style produced.

Tasting Notes

The nose displays cassis, berry, plum skins and an earthiness seen in many 2007 McLaren Vale reds.

The palate is full and round with notes of pepper, leather and earth. A tight, structural, robust Lloyd Reserve that has long, even tannins and length. Cellar confidently for up to 15-20 years.
